COVID 19: BUSINESS CONTINUITY

95. The COVID-19 pandemic has created unprecedented challenges. Our priority remains the health, safety and welfare of our personnel, clients, colleagues and the wider public. As part of our Business Continuity Resilience Plan, we have moved to reduced / home working practices: work from home (WFH) for all our personnel, for the foreseeable future. We have also curtailed all non-emergency inspections, meetings, and assignments, as many of our partners, clients, contractors, and service providers have taken the decision to close, reduce their operations and or are self-isolating. Royal Mail services also continue to be impacted, and we are experiencing significant delays both issuing and receiving static post. We anticipate travel restrictions and local lockdowns will continue to be imposed, on an area and local basis, and nationwide lockdowns may occur at short notice throughout the next 12-18 months. We will continue to review the situation and follow UK Government policy and guidance, along with World Health Organization (WHO) advice as appropriate.

96. To maintain consistency, continuity, and transparency we have enhanced our E-working, and made the following reasonable adjustments to all our services. You should expect to see the following measures implemented, when selecting or using our services.

97. We may make reasonable adjustments and withdraw from or suspend orders or contractually agreed services, on a need to basis (NTB) based on UK Government policy and guidance, perceived health risks to our personnel, and wider public health implications. This may involve re quoting our fees, including any fixed fee, or applying a surcharge of up to 50% maximum to cover our costs for additional adjustments, for us to continue to provide any agreed service. Where the cost of any adjustment is likely to exceed 50% (including cost of PPE, self-isolation, travel and insurance costs etc), or where providing a service is likely to place any of our personnel in higher risk groups at increased probability of harm to health, or impact on our ability to maintain our Business Continuity; then we will immediately notify you in writing, and withdraw our service.

98. As part of our Business Continuity Resilience Plan:

- We have expanded electronic communications across our services and will no longer provide paper postal copies of correspondence, orders, invoices notices, etc. In the case of Expert Reports, we may at our discretion issue these in paper format through the usual postal method, where appropriate.
- Case conferences, meetings and attendance at Courts and Tribunals will be offered through Virtual Attendance (VA). Please be aware that audio and picture quality may be affected by internet speed and bandwidth problems, which is a matter outside our control. We may use software in meetings and group calls (but not Court attendance) to capture audio, video, and screen sharing activity. We may also utilise options for recordings for automatic transcription, so that we can play back meeting recordings, search, or review important discussion items in the transcript, and or as part of the performance of a contract. The recordings will be password protected and saved to our secure system, so restricted users can access them securely. We will always notify and obtain your consent before we record any meeting; where your data (voice or image, conversation) may be captured. All data will be handled, stored, and retained for a short a period as possible and in accordance with statutory requirements and our Data Protection Policy.
- Property Inspections, HHSRS, nuisance assessments, will be conducted using evidence provided by occupants, including still and live images, desktop, and publicly available data. Where possible, an objective evaluation through Virtual Inspections, (VI) utilising remote access software will be included.

- Periodic, Licensing and Emergency Report In (ERI) inspections or Report In (RI) inspections, disrepair, and nuisance assessments, may be conducted through VI methods, utilising remote access software.
- We may use software in all property and nuisance inspections to capture audio, video, and screen sharing activity. We may also utilise options for recordings for automatic transcription, so that we can play back inspection recordings, and search for important matters relating to disrepair or property defects, or evidence of nuisance, and or as part of the performance of a contract. The recordings will be password protected and saved to our secure system, so restricted users can access them securely. We will always notify you if we intend to record the VI and obtain your consent, before we record any property inspection; where your data (voice or image, conversation) may be captured.
- For the safety and security of our personnel, and to comply with the provisions of Track and Trace; all responsive site visits are subject to risk assessments, which may result in property visits / services being withdrawn cancelled or rearranged. Further, we are no longer offering in person inspections or on site services, for areas where our personnel can only access locations by public transport, and or areas where the Reproduction (R) growth rate or estimate rate exceeds 0.8 - 1%.
- Our telephone response has been reduced, and our switchboard now diverts all calls to voice to email. If using telephone to contact us, you will be able to leave a voicemail message which will be picked up by our Duty Managers, who will assign and or respond to your enquiry or query by email. During this period, we ask that you use our website Service Request Forms to enquire about our services. Similarly, if you need to contact us for any urgent or routine issues, then please use our website Contact Form.
- Where we have agreed to provide a remote service (at your home or place of business), if you or anyone in your household / workplace is displaying signs of COVID-19 illness, or if you are aware that anyone is symptomatic or asymptomatic, has recently undergone any testing for a communicable disease, then please immediately make our office aware, as we may have to defer or reschedule a service.
- As part of our risk assessment, our personnel are issued with protective safety and security equipment including PPE and have been trained and instructed to maintain a safe distance throughout inspections. We ask all external contractors, suppliers, and partners to ensure they use appropriate PPE.

- Please ensure that you maintain social distancing during inspections and for offices or domestic properties, where possible leave (garden) doors and windows open to ventilate properties.
- We will do whatever we can to support you at this time and will ensure that we respond to any queries or questions, as soon as practical. If you need us to make some adjustments to the way that we provide our services to you, we will do all that we reasonably and practically can, to support your request.
